Police Protection

A GAIN it seems necessary to re-mind certain city officials of their plain duty, of the obligations they assumed when they were inducted into office. It is that duty which requires police officers to protect all residents from assault and te arrest those who attack people in their homes or on the streets, and that which requires that the mayor see to it that justice is meted out in his court and to demand that the police department be alert to stamp out such crimes. It is an unprejudiced duty which requires the same procedure in all cases, whether the accused be a foreigner or an American, a manufacturer, merchant, minister or a workingman.

The News does not pretend to assume that the mayor was not justified in discharging two men accused of assaulting an employe while on his way to work last Saturday. The victim filed an affidavit charging certain men with the offense and later identified his assailant in the mayor's court. The men were discharged for what the mayor termed lack of sufficient evidence.

Perhaps the public has views of its own on the justice of the decision. But that is not the great point. The News would stress. It is quite evident that a resident of Salem was assaulted while in the peaceful pursuit of his own business. The victimdisplays a wound on his head as proof and yet there is not the slightest disposition on the part of city officials to run down the assailants. When the affidavit was filed the accused were not even arrested. But now that they have been acquitted by the mayor's verdict why isn't some earnest effort made to find the guilty ones that they may be punished as the law provides?

Some one is responsible. If the police officers are not doing their duty in this respect the chief of police has the power to demand action. If the chief is not alert be his duties the safety director can call him to account and if the safety director is not getting the proper action out of his department the mayor can demand speedy action all along the line.

Whenever an assault or other crime is committed it is the solemn duty of the city officials, from the mayor down to the police officer, to bring the guilty one into court without delay, or to use every possible means to apprehend him. Kegardless of who happens to be the accused, that is the plain duty of the officers. They are sworn to take the initiative in stamping out crime, instead of waiting until some one files an affidavit or swears out a warrant. If they fail to do that, police protection is an absolute farce and the whole situation becomes a travesty on justice.

Some minor disturbances have marked the one strike that exists in Salem's industrial district. They have not developed a serious situation yet, but if the police department would take a firm stand against any and all violations of the law, peace-loving citizens would feel secure in their honest efforts to obtain a living for themselves and their needy families.

Children Who Need Cod Liver Oil. Will Take Vinol

Because it contains no oil, but does contain all the medicinal elements which have made Cod Liver Oil famous, together with etable iron and other up-building ingredients especially favorable for children. Many children in this city have been restored to robust health by taking Vinol, and we ask any mother who has a delicate child to try it on our guarantee that it is perfectly harmless, and if it does not help the child the druggist will return the

For a hundred years the medicinal elements contained in the cod's liver and oil have been regarded as the safest and best strength and body building medicinal agents known.

Many people, however -especially children - cannot take cod liver out because of the nauseating oil. In Vinol they get all the medicinal value of cod liver oil and emulsions in a delicious tasting form and entirely free from oil agreeable to the most delicate stomach — therefore it is better.

If you have a delicate child, give it Vinol. Knowing that it has helped so many other children, you owe it to the child. The J. H. Lease Drug Co., Salem.

CHANGE IN LAW AIDS FARMERS

Rural Sections to Get Goodly Sum For Road Maintenance.

ROAD BUILDING COST LOWER

Annual Warning Against Hollday Fires Issued by the State Fire Marshal-Working Conditions In Ohio Cities Improving - Coal Contracts Let to Low Bidders-New Health Act Held Constitutional.

Columbus. Dec. 13 .- Ohio will benefft to the extent of $2,823,004 of the eral government for the building and maintenance of roads, and which must be matched dollar for dollar by the state itself, which will insure the spending of more than $5,600,000 this

A change in the law governing the spending of the fund, which is particularly pleasing to farmers and those living in rural communities, is without the approval of the depart at a saving of $17,000. ment of agriculture and the state highway department, which insures. say those responsible for the change. that rural communities will get a goodly share for the maintenance of mail roads.

According to State Director of Highways Herrick, the fund set apart for Ohio, as well as other money appropriated by the state and counties for road building, will be spent to a much greater advantage than the money could have been spent a year ago, as the cost of road building, he says, has been reduced 40 per cent. Herrick says he bases his observations on bids recently submitted to the department of road contracts. Speaking on the road building pro gram of the state, Charles Brand of the Ohio Good Roads Federation, in an address before the association this week, condemned the former polley of the department in attempting to pave with hard surface the entire 10.063 miles of road taken over by the state more than 10 years ago. He said such a policy had resulted in the paving of about one-third of the mileage and the practical destruction of the remainder of the state roads. The unpaved roads, he declared, were practically unusuable at bad seasons of the year, and that the continuation of such a policy would ultimately result in the practical destruction of all state roads or the burdening of the state with a debt that would increase taxes to a prohibitive extent.

He advocated a policy of macadamizing such roads as the state at this time could not pave, and declared the state within a few years' time could in this manner build up a splendid system of state roads. He also advocated an increased license fee for users of commercial trucks.

In issuing its annual warning against holiday fires and the loss of life and property due to carelessness, the state fire marshal's office is sending broadcast over the state a summary of the deaths due to fire during the month of November and warning that unless great precautions are takduring the month of December, because of the lighting of candles and Christmas trees.

According to the fire marshal's report, 38 persons, including 121 baas a result of fires. Particular attention is called to the use of unscreened fires, which during the month claimed 10 of the 38 victims.

A summary of the report for October shows there were 341 fires, as compared with 299 for October, 1920. The loss in October this year was $514,851 against $541,922 in October, a loss of $11,900. Bad electrical wiring caused 22 fires and a loss of $22. 369; exploding gasoline, 11 fires; 20 gas explosions with a loss of $23,971, careless smokers $2,783 loss, and spontaneous combustion $46,325 loss.

Working conditions in the larger cities of Ohio are showing a marked improvement, according to the report just issued by the United States employment service, due largely, the report indicates, to the beginning of city improvement projects.

Cleveland probably leads in the matter of city improvement projects giving work to the army of unenployed, with six new building proj ects opened by the board of education of that city. Iron foundries in Cleveland are still idle, but other plants, according to the teport, are reopening and rehiring their old employes

Conditions, says the report, have become noticeably better in Akron, which was probably the largest and first sufferer from the business slump. A large reduction in the home rentals has relieved the situs tion there to a large extent, and with the reopening of practically all the rubber plants, riany of them runnin full time and some at least emplo;

Chicago, Dec. 13.—Pal Moore, local bantamweight, who is matched to fight Johnny Buff, the champion, at Milwaukee next Thursday night, is devoting his time to developing a punch, it was learned today. Tommy Gibbons, Johnny Coulon and other heavy hitters of the ring are coaching Moore in the art of putting steam behind his wa'lops.

Moore believes he will be able to out-box Buff but is anxious to acquire knockout power so that he can win the title decisively.

Buff, who is training at Milwaukee, is not worried over Moore's activities and is confident he will retain

NEW TARIFF LAW FAR IN FUTURE

IT MAY BE A YEAR BEFORE THE MEASURE IS PUT ON THE STATUTE BOOKS.

WORLD EQUILIBRIUM AWAITED

First Regular Session of Congress, Which Begins December 5, Must Consider Also the Railroad Refunding and Foreign Debt Bills.

Washington.-It was believed by the leaders in congress apparently that hearings could be held on the tariff, and that the legislation could be framed, passed and approved by the President by midsummer. Here it is snow time and the tariff bill is still awaiting passage. A month ago it was said that probably it would be passed In January. Then the date was set forward one month, and then two months. It is possible now that a new tariff law will not be put on the statute books for a year

Last spring certain members of congress sent to the leaders therein word that it would be wise to give over any thought of adequate tariff legislation antil many months had rolled by. The advice was unheeded.

The argument advanced by the members of congress who urged delay in tariff legislation was that there could be no certainty that the measare would be wise in its provisions unless its framing was postponed until economic conditions in the world has become something like normal:

Labor enters largely into all matwages for the most part were low. The ed today on the highest authority. money exchange between the countries reached. Congress, however, went cities it was said. ahead with its tariff legislation, the they had been right from the firstand yet today they must still look shead for the time of the enactment of a new customs law.

With the matters which have been It may last until the time of the con. drug store. Millions helped annually, gressional election next fall. This may be a pessimistic way of looking at it, but one must judge of future performances by past performances.

Why Legislation Is Slow.

It may be that haste in legislation is unwise, and that therefore all the long continued debates on measures have been for the best, but it is certain that in the elder days party measures were put through congress with much greater celerity than is the case The reason is to be found in the fact that party loyalty, so-called, is not what it once was. The minority members of the dominant party who do not agree with the majority members thereof do not content themselves now simply with talking and with offering amendments. They fight every Inch of the way, and in the senate they are able to block legislation which they do not approve. This has happened at the extraordinary session, and It may happen at the next session.

A member of congress said something jocosely the other day which seems to fit the legislative situation. He said: "The house votes and never debates; the senate debates and never There is a lot in this, for the house cannot limit its debate, while the senate seems, even under its cloture rule, to be unable to do so.
